Appeal Taken from Decision for Plaintiff in Baker-Kramer Case.
The civil action of Charles H. Baker of this city vs. George H. Kramer of Mansfield, was tried Tuesday. It was a dispute over $10. Plaintiff claimed that there was $37.50 due him on a note, while the defendant claimed that there was only $27.50 due. Defendant had given his attorney, P. J. Danahey, $27.50, which the plaintiff refused to take. Plaintiff was represented by Attorney S. B. Harvey and the case was tried before Justice of the Peace E. Frank Bugbee, who reserved his decision until 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, when he announced his finding for the plaintiff and rendered judgment for $33.50. The attorney for the defendant gave notice of an appeal to the superior court.

Invited Inmates of Town Farm.
The Grex club, which is to give a minstrel show, has extended an invitation to the inmates at the Windham town farm to attend the production on the evening of the last performance, as guests of the club. It is expected that the members of the institution will be present in charge of the superintendent and matron, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Chamberlain, and that they will make the trip over the Willimantic-South Coventry line.

Tolland Lawbreaker Must Pay $39.
John Marek, who was arrested in Tolland, was tried before Justice of the Peace George H. Allen of Mansfield Wednesday afternoon, with Attorney George E. Hinman of this city prosecuting. Accused was charged with breach of the peace, intoxication and theft. It was alleged that he went to his wife's home at Mansfield Four Corners last Saturday night, and while under the influence of liquor created a disturbance and with all the money that his wife had in the house. Three witnesses testified for the state. The accused denied everything. He was, nevertheless, found guilty and fined $5 and costs for breach of the peace, $2 and costs for intoxication, and $5 and costs for theft, a total of approximately $12.

He was unable to raise the money up to a late hour in the afternoon and in all probability will have to work out his fines and costs in jail.
MILITARY BALL.
Brilliant Social Event Under Auspices of Garde Florimond.
The fourth annual military ball given under the auspices of Garde Florimond in town hall Wednesday evening was the most elaborate event undertaken by the local guard, and was a great success in every way.

The hall was effectively decorated by the local guard, and was a great success in every way. The general color scheme was green and white.
At 8 o'clock there was an inspection of Garde Florimond by General J. B. Lariviere of Fitchburg, Mass., who is at the head of the Franco-American brigade for New England. The crack garde executed many fine manoeuvres and passed an excellent inspection. Many compliments were tendered the officers and members for their fine showing and the applause from the well filled gallery was liberal.

At 8:30 there was a grand march started with more than a hundred couples in line. It was led by Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Lariviere, followed by Gen. J. B. Lariviere and lady and Brig. Gen. and Mrs. J. B. Paulhus.

There were four boxes in the hall, one at each corner, they were occupied by Gen. J. B. Paulhus and wife, First Sgt. Alme Martineau and wife, G. O. Cartier and Miss Agnes Cadieux of Holyoke, Mass., Corp. Albert Richard, Miss Martha Mathieu and party, Sgt. P. D. Moreau, Miss Victoria Moreau, Sgt. A. J. Veillard and party, Miss Marie Lefebvre, Lieut. Theodore Morrissette, Miss Etta Logan of Hampton, Corp. Arthur Racicot and wife, Archie Dubreuil and Miss Mary Mullin.

There was a large representation of Company L, First regiment, C. N. G. present, and many other guests from out of town.
Helmold's orchestra of ten pieces furnished music for the excellent concert and the grand march and the fine dance order that followed. E. L. Prince catered.

The committee in charge comprised Sgt. A. J. Veillard, Corp. Arthur Racicot and First Archie Dubreuil.
HELD FOR INFANTICIDE.
Sybil Parker Taken to Brooklyn Jail—Bound Over to Next Term of Superior Court.

Sybil Parker (colored), aged 24, pleaded guilty to murder in the first degree Wednesday morning in police court, when she was arraigned before Judge William A. Arnold. Judge Arnold would not accept her plea and in order to protect her rights he entered a plea of not guilty and called on the state to produce its evidence.

George H. Patenaude, who lives at 452 Pleasant street, testified that the accused had worked for him at his house for four weeks, coming there on the 12th of November, when his wife returned from the police court. He testified that on Dec. 3, she was at his house on Nov. 27, the day on which she was charged with having murdered her newborn child. He then related the circumstances of the finding of the body of the dead infant while he was raking up his cellar Monday afternoon. When further questioned witness stated that neither he nor his wife was aware that the colored woman was in a family with a child, and called on the state to produce its evidence.

Capt. E. H. Richmond testified to having called on the Patenaude house when Mr. Patenaude told him that there was something there that did not look right and then told of the finding of the body with an apron string tied around its neck. He testified that Dr. Louis L. Mason, the medical examiner, and the latter went to the house and the body was turned over to him. The medical examiner turned over to witness a shirt, waist and apron that were covered with blood, and knowing that Mrs. Parker had been working at the house went in search of her and found her working at George E. Gifford's on Summit street. The captain took her to police headquarters.

Medical Examiner Mason was called and testified to the finding of the body in a scoured up depression in the cellar bottom and that the child was wrapped in bloody rags and had an apron string tied about its neck. He told of the findings at the autopsy and that a plea in mitigation of Guilty was left. The child was found to be a white child, and he said that it was impossible to state how long the child had been dead, but the body was in a good state of preservation.

No further evidence was submitted by the state and Judge Arnold asked the jury if they knew anything that she desired to say. She started in to tell that she was unable to care for the child and that was the reason for her act, but the judge stopped her and told her that in order that her rights might be protected she had better wait until before a higher court and then make her statement, as at such time she would be provided with counsel by the state.

state. The court found probable cause and bound the woman over to the next term of superior court, which will come in at Putnam in March. She was taken to Brooklyn jail on the express at noon via Putnam and Plainfield because of the cold weather and the long cold drive by team.

Fenton as toastmaster. He introduced Mayor D. Dunn, who responded eloquently and pledged his support to the Spanish War Veterans at any and all times. He was followed by Department Commander Gammon, who made many interesting remarks and complimented the camp on its loyalty and ability to do good.

Department Adjutant Best made a few remarks, and Junior Vice Department Commander James Cochran responded with brief and humorous Scotch sayings, which won much applause. Commander Joyce and Past Commander McNamara responded briefly. Nearly all the others spoke for the good of the organization.

Miss Victoria Desrochers, who resides on Green avenue, was taken very ill on Tuesday, and later in the afternoon Dr. R. R. Agnew pronounced the trouble appendicitis and decided that an immediate operation was necessary. Miss Kirby, a nurse from St. Vincent's hospital, Worcester, was sent for, and at half past ten at night the operation was performed. The patient was resting comfortably on Wednesday.

William E. Wallace died at his mother's home, George Barber's, on Factory Hill, on Tuesday morning, after a long illness with consumption. Mr. Wallace was born here February 15, 1867, and has passed most of his life here. He enlisted in Company H, Connecticut infantry, during the Spanish war, and served until the company was mustered out. He is survived by his mother, his wife and a daughter, Miss Charlotte Wallace of Plainfield. Burial will be at the cemetery.

Harold D. Hewitt, A. G. Brewster, Samuel Baldwin, Earle Gilbert and Peter McArthur have been appointed the committee for the annual banquet of the Vernon lodge, No. 75, P. and A. M.

STAFFORD SPRINGS
Borough Appointments—Lunch Cart Fire—Sale of Card Clothing Machinery.

At a meeting of the court of burgesses, Wednesday morning, appointments were made as follows: Street commissioner, Marshall Boliveau; chief of police, Louis Helm; borough council, Robert H. Fisk; special officers, B. T. Eaton, C. E. Butterfield, P. P. Davis, Thomas Mullen, John Mahan, Irving R. Parkhurst, Condon Smith, G. B. Colburn, Dana Gray.

County President David Morgan of Rockville will install the newly elected officers of the A. O. H. Sunday afternoon.

Fire in Lunch Cart.
A fire in the lunch cart on Furnace avenue, Wednesday morning, was the cause of the alarm being rung. The fire started from the gasoline stove and burned briskly for a few minutes. It was put out by the use of a few pails of water and the services of the firemen were not needed.

John R. Parkhurst, the local station agent, is ill with grip.

Bought Card Clothing Business.
Arthur L. Kelley of Providence has bought the card clothing business of C. F. Beckwith, Mr. Beckwith, who continues the manufacture of hand stripping cards. The card clothing machinery will probably be moved out of town by Mr. Kelly.

The week of prayer is being observed by union services at the Methodist and Congregational churches.

William E. Remmer has returned to Bates college, after spending a week at his home in the Hollow.

Michael Joseph has bought the three houses on West Main street belonging to Louis Helm.

Romeo Sarafine has applied for a food house license. He has a beer license by the commissioners in October.

Old-Age Pensions.
The expected has happened. A bill for old-age pensions has been introduced in the house of representatives. The bill is introduced by William Wilson of Bloomsburg, Pa., former coal miner, former international secretary of the United Mine Workers of America, who now makes a living for his ten children on a farm, when he is not lucky enough to be drawing a representation salary. The bill provides that the bill give $120 a year to each man or woman over the age of 65 who has no other property worth $500 nor an income of over $240 a year.

Modesty is to be expected of an entering wedge. But Wilson's measure is too modest by half. This is a rich country. How can it expect a person over 65 years old to live comfortably on $120 a year? If the old-age pension in each year were fixed at say, $5,000 a year, more money would be put in circulation and anyone would have a motive for seeking longevity. Nobody would be silly enough to nurse thrift or to pursue industry any farther than would be needed to keep life going till the age of 65 should be reached. That matter why not make the age 40? This is an era of humanitarian experiment—Brooklyn Eagle.

The Common Cold.
It has probably occurred to innumerable sufferers from what is generally known as the "common cold" that it is a deadly foe for medical science, which has coped successfully with much more serious problems in disease, to abate a distressing malady which has been aptly designated "the scourge of the north." In every household there is a favorite remedy, but, as a matter of fact, no effective cure is known.

In a recent issue of The British Medical Journal it is pointed out that the disease is not only a nuisance, but its symptoms being due to various germs. The widespread belief in cold baths and the process called "hardening" is rejected. Even the hope held out sometime ago by Dr. Benham in his report to the British Medical association, that a vaccine may cut short an attack or make it tolerable, is not received with favor because the microbe of the common cold is not always the same, hence it would be necessary first to discover the identity of the particular bug or use a mixed vaccine.—Philadelphia Press.

Mail Box at the Door.
One of the suggestions of the postmaster general for economizing in his department is that the people put up little boxes or receptacles at their front doors, so that the postman will not have to stand and wait until the family answers the bell. A great deal of time is wasted by the postman having to wait. It is in the interest of an efficient and economic service to provide these little conveniences, and then they are not only conveniences for the postman; they are also for the people of the house.

"There is the mail man," says the housekeeper, with her hands in the dish-water or mixing the dough for the family bread—"run, Johnny, to the door," and Johnny is down in the back yard trying to lasso a black cat, but by this time the mail man, thinking he is at home, goes with the expected letter from Mary, who is visiting over in Chicago, and who the day before had the pleasure for several hours, simply for the lack of a neat little letter-box at the front door.—Ohio State Journal.

Uncle Joe's Aspirations.
Surely one has but to listen to "Uncle Joe" for a minute as he handles his check book, to know that he is endeavoring to realize that it isn't exactly a theory that he is seeking to set up.—N. Y. Globe.

Ohio Ignored.
This week's list of ministerial appointments contains the names of three Ohio ministers. This will tend to harmonize things in Ohio.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.
